PRESS RELEASE - FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - 29 APRIL 2015

FEE leads the debate on tax policy in Europe

Brussels, 29 April 2015

FEE's 4th Tax Day demonstrated its ongoing commitment to discuss taxation as a matter for society as a whole with a broad array of stakeholders.

At this event, FEE also launched an innovative publication, providing unique insight into the diverse perspectives on tax policy in Europe. The FEE Tax Day attracted 200 policy makers, business leaders and tax experts from 26 European countries. They debated issues such as the impact of emerging policy initiatives and the tensions surrounding national tax policies.

FEE President Petr Kriz opened the conference by emphasizing European accountants' commitment to make room for all sides of the debate and contribute to a solution in the public interest. Duly considering the current complex challenges is the only way to design tax policy and legislation that will address the demands of tomorrow.

In his closing remarks, FEE CEO, Olivier Boutellis-Taft, stressed that it is time for taxpayers, tax advisors, tax policymakers and civil society to cooperate and join forces to move toward responsible taxation and legislation.
