

FEE is an international non-profit organisation based in Brussels which represents 47 institutes of professional accountants and auditors from 36 European countries, including all of the 28 EU Member States.

FEE pulls together the expertise and field knowledge of its members to inform the EU Institutions and other stakeholders on a broad range of topics such as:

- Financial and non-financial reporting and accounting
- Audit and assurance
- Corporate governance and company law
- Taxation
- Public sector
- Small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs)
- Small and medium-sized accountancy practices
- Ethics
- Financial services (banks, insurance, capital markets)
- Sustainability
- Professional qualification

In its work and in representing the European accountancy profession, FEE recognises the public interest.

FEE represents the accountancy profession in the broader sense, through a combined membership of more than 800.000 professional accountants, working in public practice, small and large accountancy firms, businesses of all sizes, government and education, all contributing daily in their respective roles to a more efficient, transparent and sustainable European economy. The breadth of its constituency, its consensus-based decision-making and its close links with the field puts it in a unique position to inform the European debate.

FEE is registered in the European Commission's Register of Interest Representatives¹.
